Policy on Plagiarism and Cheating

Plagiarism: While we encourage you to consult with each other in the preparation of your lab reports, it is never acceptable for you to directly copy words or ideas from someone else without proper attribution. Words that are lifted directly from any other source must be placed in quotations with a citation given. Likewise, ideas that are borrowed from someone else must include an appropriate citation. Students found to be plagiarizing in their lab reports will be given a grade of zero for the lab report. Students found to be repeatedly plagiarizing (more than one incident) will be given a failing grade in the course.

Cheating: Any student found to be cheating on a quiz or exam will be given an automatic failing grade in the course.

I understand and agree to this policy on plagiarism and cheating.
